Snowfall Places To Visit In Sikkim

The Sikkim experience becomes even more magical during winters. Winters in Sikkim result in the entire region turning into a snowy wonderland with mountains covered in white sheets of snow, frozen lakes, and serene villages. Snowfall in Sikkim draws tourists who are eager to witness the magic of winters in the Himalayas in favourable conditions without the harsh weather. Right from the tourist-friendly areas to the unexplored high-altitude valleys in Sikkim, there are plenty of locations where you can witness the magic of snowfall along with the serene mountains. Here are some of the best spots to experience the magic of snowfall in Sikkim during your next winter vacation.

- Lachung (North Sikkim) - One of the most sought-after destinations in Sikkim for experiencing snowfall is Lachung. During winter, the whole village, road, and mountains are covered in thick layers of white snow.

- Lachen (North Sikkim) - Lachen sees heavy snowfall and has a serene Himalayan aura about it. It's also the base village for visiting Gurudongmar Lake, provided the weather cooperates.

- Yumthang Valley (North Sikkim) - Known as the Valley of Flowers, Yumthang is a sight in winter, consisting of big snow-covered meadows and frozen streams, which is really apt for a family and photographers as well.

- Gnathang Valley (East Sikkim) - A Gnathang Valley tour guide offers one of the most raw and dramatic snowfall experiences in Sikkim. This high-altitude valley lies along the Old Silk Route and draws comparisons with Ladakh due to its wide-open expanses of snow-covered terrain.

- Zuluk (East Sikkim) - Famous for its zigzag routes and scenic points, the region experiences heavy snowfall in winters and provides spectacular sights of the snow-capped Himalayan ranges on clear mornings.

- Tsomgo Lake (East Sikkim) - Tsomgo Lake, or Tsom One of the easiest spots within the vicinity of Gangtok to watch it snow is Tsomgo Lake. This is because, during winter, it partially freezes and has snow around it.

- Nathula Pass (East Sikkim) - When it is open, Nathu La Pass is a great spot for a snowfall experience along the Indo-China border. It is dependent on permits and weather.

- Ravangla (South Sikkim) - Ravangla gets moderate to light snowfall during peak winter seasons. This place is ideal for those travelers who want to stay away from the crowd.

The snow fall in Sikkim has a magical charm of its own that makes winters a great time to visit Sikkim. Whether you decide to visit the popular spots of Lachung and Yumthang, or you decide to go to some unexplored corner of Gnathang Valley, every destination in these parts of Sikkim has a snow fall experience of its own. With some proper planning and preparation, snow fall in Sikkim can become a lifelong experience in the Himalayas.